Re: Supplement to Notes: Additional Offer made to AOL CEO Armstrong via AOL Assistant General Counsel Christopher Day during Phone call of January 6, 2010

Eliot:

As discussed, this is to supplement the Notes of the call on January 6, 2010 with AOL Assistant Counsel Christopher Day to further reflect that you Offered to have CEO Armstrong fly to Boca Raton for a Business meeting to work these matters out as well and as indicated had asked Mr. Day to either contact directly Ted Leonsis, Steve Case, Heidi Krauel, Alan Bell, Chuck Dages, David Colter etc or to bring this to AOL General Counsel Ira Parker to do so.

Frankly, I found it rather bizarre that Mr. Day would discuss alleged difficulties in meeting your Cash Demand and layoffs within AOL without moving the conversation to alternatives / counter Offers such as your Offer to Accept STOCK in lieu of Cash and found it bizarre that Mr. Day refused to want to bring your Offer to have CEO Armstrong fly to Boca (AOL expense of course) for a business meeting to CEO Armstrong and/or AOL General Counsel Parker and this supplemental note should further reflect that AOL Assistant General Counsel claimed he was willing to take the FALL for the Whole Company and Shareholders ("fall" may not be exact quote, risk maybe) on his own Personally without moving these business matters up to the appropriate Executive Officers and Management Team. Obviously if Mr. Day had communicated that AOL would fly you and YOUR Team to Virginia or NY or wherever the meeting to finalize and move forward would occur you would have been open to this as well.

I hope this helps in moving this Time Sensitive Business matter forward and again I have taken the liberty to copy the Key Executives at AOL on this matter both to avoid Concealing of information and also based upon my personal belief that the good parts of AOL could be positive in moving forward.

Please contact me if you need any further information.

Respectfully,
