The Trillion Dollar Trial of the Millennium

Author == SD 21 March 2013 25 Comments

It's finally happened :: I've been sued.

Was it ...

- The Homicider?
- The Great Pyramid?
- The Godfather?
- The Giant?
- The Gnome?
- The Spider?
- The Rick Calvert's Tacos?

Nope :: it was Eliot Bernstein ... who's totally going to get a nickname as soon as I figure out who the fuck he is.

I mean here he is giving a "Presidential Campaign Speech" without his top or bottom teeth ...

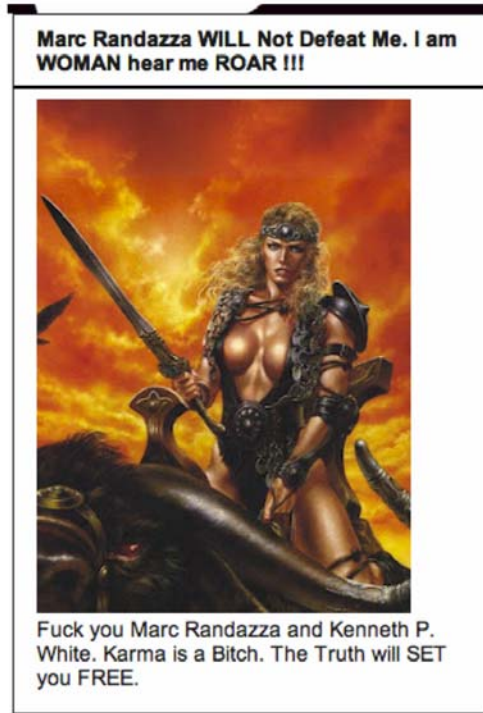

... so we have that :: but I'm not sure if it really clears anything up {or maybe it clears everything up?}.

Unfortunately for me :: it's serious ... trillions online on the line.

Defendant Eliot Bernstein is the founder of the iViewit Technology Company and one of the iViewit Technology Inventors. The Co-Conspirators in this complaint stand to lose Trillions of Dollars in the iViewit Technology Case and many face prison time.

Bernstein's got himself a top lawyer to handle the case too :: gal goes by the name of Cox ... Crystal L. Cox.

Cox is an Investigative Blogger :: Online Reputation Manager :: Pro se litigator :: Reverend Wiccan Pagan Priestess ... and some other made-up shit too no doubt. Here take one of her cards ...

Cox lost a lawsuit that seemed to have implications for free speech :: but turned out to be about cyber-extortion instead. 1st Amendment lawyer Marc Randazza was going to help out with the case :: but then he didn't. Reverend Crystal L. Cox :: in Love and Light ... purchased a swarm of websites in the name of Randazza and his wife and daughter ... and then proceeded to trash the three of them ridiculously.

It was a step or two {thousand} too far :: and Randazza took Cox before the World Intellectual Property Organization {where he won a decision on the domain names} ... and to federal court. Many of the domain names had been transferred to Eliot Bernstein :: so Bernstein was named in the complaint. Cox and Bernstein counter sued ...

- The New York Times
- Forbes
- Proskauer Rose
- WIPO
- Philly Law Blog
- NPR
- Salty Droid {that's me!}
- Tracy Coenen
- Apple
- PopeHat
- Judge Gloria Navarro {the judge on the case}

... among many others :: claiming a trillion dollar conspiracy to cover up the misuse of Bernstein's patents on his alleged Iviewit technology.

The decade old Iviewit patent describes itself as ...

A method of providing a digital image file for viewing in a viewing window of a user display, the viewing window having a predetermined size. The method includes providing a digital image having an image size comprising a fixed number of pixels representative of an image, the image size being greater than the predetermined viewing window size.

... fucking trillions!

My part in the conspiracy was asking Reverend Crystal Cox to fuck off before she further damaged the free speech rights of other bloggers :: which is why I've only been sued for ten million instead of the full trillions.

I guess :: I think ... maybe.

But I could be wrong :: because it's all very stupid :: and I don't speak fluent stupid ... you best try and read it for yourself {warning :: may cause dizziness and/or temporary insanity}.

Recently Bernstein emailed me some of his ravings {because I guess now that he's fake sued me we're like BFFs or something} :: subject line ...

“VIEWIT BREAKING NEWS!!! “Judges Were Illegally Wiretapped, Says Insider” & “Governor Andrew Cuomo Asked to Shut Down Judicial ‘Ethics’ Office.” Is it all related to Eliot Bernstein’s 12 TRILLION DOLLAR RICO?”

Give or take a TRILLION.

Eliot and I had a short conversation :: which started with me saying ...

Why are you emailing me freak?

... and ended {the first time} with him saying ...

So in parting, which is sweet sorrow, your IQ deficiency will not be missed. Best in all your endeavors and I will be at your side, as guide, when your soul goes to that black hole and my voice shall be the last thing your spirit hears and it will not be comforting.

Obviously not something a freak would say or anything ... just some normal stuff.

Now go back to reading my RICO and know that in the end (coming soon) it will be a clean sweep of all conspirators assets, personally and professionally, nice to own you. Now shoo, be gone.

For seriously :: I'd rather get sucked into that black hole with soul-whisperer Bernstein ... than read that Cox-gibberish “RICO” complaint again.

So I guess I haven't been sued :: I've just been kinda ... drooled on while riding the bus.

Boring.

Crystal L. Cox :: never nOt disappointing.

But this whole “conspiring with Marc Randazza” idea is pretty fucking great. Randazza blew a bankruptcy size hole into the evil plans of copyright trolling firm Righthaven :: stuck it to Glenn Beck :: represented the Steubenville rape case blogger ...

... all kinds of cool shit like that. But he'd never heard of me {or this site's free speech problems} :: proly because I can't manage to get fucking sued.

A bunch of you dipshits like to talk cliché cat crap about lawyers. But if you aim to accomplish something big :: then you're a nothing :: and a nobody ... until you matter to a lawyer that matters. Big stuff requires big lawyers :: them's the facts. It's an extra complicated problem for a web activist :: because most lawyers understand the Internet about as well as a sedated senior citizen.

Some things are changing around here. Check out the new {more straightforward} about page :: here's the best part ...

The Salty Droid is defended by the Randazza Legal Group ...

Yep.

Reverend Cox :: I can't thank you enough for inadvertently making this introduction ... but I'm not so sure that the rest of Scamworld is going to feel the same.

>> bleep bloop

I would want to say stuff about this stuff. But I try to start to begin, then even before I start a retroactive brain wyrm will travel back in time and eat the burgeoning future instance of my brain state that was about to try to start talking about it.

I just don't have the stones to deal with this kind of crazy. This right here, this is the gold standard™. People throw around that catchy term "bat shit" crazy. Well this is it here on this page with Crystal Cox and Eliot Bernstein.

I tried listening to a few minutes of his incredibly long and (I'm guessing) utterly pointless diatribe. I'm tempted to start to consider to think about the possibility of speculating as to wondering about asking Mr. Bernstein about how, if he's so sure all these groups are so bad and it's multi trillion corruption, then how the hell is a (by comparison) measly little RICO statute going to stand up to that? Who would enforce it? What judge would rule it? etc. Then I'm tempted to ask him where he overhead RICO.

I want to ask him about his patent. It makes not really any sense. Kinda like any program that deals with images in any capacity has to deal with scaling the image at some point. And as far as I can tell from what you quoted here, that's all his special program does. Or maybe he was trying to patent image thumbnails, which is like a special case of a scaled image. Whatever it is, there's no f-king way you could call it "novel". You could maybe call it the extreme opposite of novel like: mundane.. common place.. ordinary. But it's harder to patent those things.

But I can't ask Eliot Bernstein any of that or else the brain wyrm will eat me.

What was I saying? Oh yeah. Fire bad, tree pretty.

You know, Salty, for a long time, I bet people have been (secretly) saying "you'd have to be crazy to sue Salty Droid."

So as of today, that assertion is still totally true.

But that's pretty cool on the legal representation thing! And such a weird way for it to all go down. huh.

Thanks, Randazza Legal Group. That's mighty neighborly of you.

@mojo,

I like your post. The “lista de email” reference is funny and Floppsie’s Lament is appropriately painful.

Re the notion of getting rid of all opinions one disagrees with: I remember reading somewhere in a Usenet FAQ once something like this: Be warned. The forum has people in it expressing points of view that are not just different than yours, but some whose opinion/point of view/outlook may actually be harmful to your opinion/point of view/outlook.

I’m not translating that very well. Basically, it said that there could be people out there in the forum who, just by the act of your reading what they had to say, you might feel like they were attacking you. I thought that was a very insightful kind of warning.

I totally support free speech. Or at least I support it the way that Randazza talks about. Crystal Cox is the living example that there’s some cases in the arena of free speech where maybe free speech advocates should just kinda let nature take its course or something.

Welcome to the party Salty, (again) this is actually Cox’s third attempt at a lawsuit. Im not sure if you were mentioned in #1, an attempt at a cross complaint within the Obsidian case. #1 was essentially ignored, #2 was essentially dismissed on a Friday, adn she filed #3 on saturday morning. Of course Im sure you realize that its nothing until she actually has you served. Since she is 100% broke and homeless, its less important than toliet paper. Cox and Bernstein are the definition of Bat Shit crazy.... Im hoping for something along the vexatious litigant status for both of them. heck i wanted to go to Vegas anyway, gives us an excuse to go!

@Sean B,

Re “vexatious litigant”: That ’s a cool-sounding phrase. I collect those in my head the way some other geeks collect cards on a shelf.

I’m guessing it’s a legal term that means: someone who tries to sue other people too damn much with no good reason... yes that’s it. At least according to

<http://legal-dictionary.thefreedictionary.com/Vexatious+litigation>

A legal action or proceeding initiated maliciously and without Probable Cause by an individual who is not acting in Good Faith for the purpose of annoying or embarrassing an opponent.

So yeah. IMHO, that describes the nature of Crystal Cox’s lawsuits pretty darn well.

Now I can add “vexatious litigant” to my collection of cool-sounding legal terms like “fruit from the poisoned tree” and “habeas corpus”.

@SD, lord knows I've tried on many occasions to have her arrested... Had a restraining order against her, which she ignored, she drives back and forth in front of my house, police do nothing. Law enforcement and the local courts have really screwed the pooch as far as cox goes. The legal system has had many opportunities to get her the medication she needs.
