NY Ethics Scandal Tied to International Espionage Scheme (MORE, CLICK HERE)

Tammany Hall II Ethics Scandal Reaching New Heights

Reports surfaced in New York and around Washington, D.C. last week detailing a massive communications satellite espionage scheme involving major multi-national corporations and the interception of top-secret satellite signals.

The evidence in the corporate eavesdropping cover-up "is frightening," according to an informed source who has reviewed the volumes of documentation. The espionage scheme, he says, is directly tied to the growing state bar ethics scandal at the Appellate Division First Department, Departmental Disciplinary Committee (DDC) in Manhattan.

Rumors had been Circulating Linking the NY Bar Scandal to International Corporate Espionage Ops Using Satellites

The highflying spy operation involves private and public companies, mainly in the U.S. and Europe, that operate apart- but not too far- from national intelligence services. Confidential sources have learned that the original source of much of the secret information comes from satellite intercepts sold by telecom companies under contract to government spy agencies.

⋮ Re: U.S. Department of Justice

Although it's rarely addressed in any official proceedings, basically all private telephone conversations and email transmissions in the U.S., and essentially worldwide, are routinely intercepted by one government authority or another. Much of the work is done by independent telecom companies that transmit the signals on to giant computers that translate the text in real time. This instant translation capability put an end to many embarrassing backlogs, as in the case of the first World Trade Center bombing, where the FBI had received an intercept, but hadn't translated the key incriminating conversation before that 1993 event.

Once translated, the reviewing super computers search for key words to flag suspect conversations and transmissions. Proper names of people, buildings, addresses, codes, arms, explosives and the like will trip a full-scale investigation of a transcript.

Apart from the official surveillance of signal intelligence (or "sigint" in the spy trade), what confidential sources have discovered is that there is lots of freelance spying going on, where top-secret corporate information is being offered for sale to the highest bidder. The payments are allegedly made for a tip of such secrets as planned corporate acquisitions, mergers, or some very positive or negative performance reports.

Advance knowledge of corporate information, and the corresponding improper company stock activity, has long been the focus of many insider trading investigations but has not, until now, directly involved New York City's attorney ethics committee. One source says it's been the 'perfect crime.' "The brains behind this organized scheme have thwarted attorney ethics investigations in New York, federal criminal inquiries and various civil actions around the country by simply citing 'national security,'" says the source.

Enter the DDC, again

Since this secret corporate information is sent across public telecom networks that are constantly subject to interception, the black market in top-secret corporate intel continues to grow, and it generally evades detection. Last week, however, investigators tripped across evidence of a law firm protecting a client that had been on the selling side of corporate espionage. When complaints were filed with the New York Attorney Disciplinary Committee against the firm for a series of ethical violations, those grievances apparently disappeared into one of the now-well-known DDC black holes.

Another trusted source from outside New York has indicated that federal court filings will soon provide detailed evidence showing how the dysfunctional DDC machinery covered-up actions by certain New York attorneys involved in the corporate spying activities.

The fraud by Cahill and Cohen at the DDC has been going on for years. And it's not a matter of Black or White, it's been a matter of GREEN- money, money, money.

Someone should check into Cahill and Cohen's financial affairs. And check out Cahill's lawyer-daughter who raised eyebrows when she oddly became a partner in her law firm. Keep digging, it's pretty ugly.

there is big money in these off the books ops and they have the perfect cover! But who is running the show? Look at little bit farther and you will discover major legal luminaries including but not limited to white shoe firms up to their blue blooded eye balls with some of their school chums. The best part of all this is it's all illegal! Hey, but who cares, it's all NATIONAL SECURITY!

You have no idea how deep the corruption goes in this country. But hey, if you can clean up even a small amount of it, you people have provided a great public service to the citizens of our country.

All that is stated above is TRUE, and they are into bank accounts...THIS IS THE REAL BIG BROTHER! Bush set it up for big business, using NATIONAL SECURITY as the general code word! Corruption deep in America EXISTS...get the average citizen to believe it...outside of NYC... very, very difficult!

Is it true that Gisella Weisshaus has also filed a suit in Southern District against Cahill, et al., relating to failure in 1998 to take action on her grievance against Edward Fagan? Presumably this involves the situation in which former DDC Counsel Hal Lieberman, r+2 mos after going into private practice and being succeeded by Cahill, represented Fagan in responding to Mrs. Weisshaus's grievance to the 1st Dept DDC, the grounds for which were the same as those which were primary basis for New Jersey Master's recommendation that Fagan be disbarred.

I am A victim too with the DDC they dismissed my complaint I filed on andrew Plasse who handled a personal injury lawsuit against the city of NEW YORK for 10 million and told me the city settled with me for 1,500 and lied a said that judge james W Hutcherson didn't allow the motion to be file, but according to public record the judge did extend time to file on 6/7/00.
