Neon Apatite - Large, Mostly Eye Clean and Well

It is rare to find eye clean Neon Apatite in sizes over 10ct. In 1995, the owner of All That Glitters found a few large pieces from Madagascar and these few pieces were studied for inclusions, etc. Only 3 pieces of rough were produced a 4.95ct Square, an 11.33ct piece and a 20+ct . These three apatites were borrowed by the GIA to be photographed for a future article on this gemstone. The article was featured in the introduction of the All That Glitters True Gemstones, in 1996. We have not seen this material since. Recently, a cutter recently, he indicated that he had never seen faceted pieces of decent size, color or clarity for several years. He indicated that he had never seen faceted more than about a 2ct stone!!

Almost a 13ct ct Neon Apatite!!

This Neon Blue Apatite hails from the same country that produced our previous neon Apatites, including the ones that were photographed by GIA for a future article. This particular gem was faceted from a piece of rough that appeared in JCK magazine. (The piece of rough is the largest in the photo, and appears far more green in the photo than in person.)

The All That Glitters Neon Apatites have received much press because of their size, color and clarity. This one falls into that category too, but it was also faceted by our Master Facetor. Each facet meets perfectly. The future owner could enter this piece into one of the annual cutting competitions.

The color of this gemstone is different from the other similar gemstones we have faceted. This is not a true blue, but more of a bluish green or deep teal.

12.90ct Unique Deep Bluish Green Apatite faceted by our Master Cutter 17.38x12.03x9.20mm (mj3inc-04-02a) $2,580

5.48ct U.S. Cut Neon Green Blue Apatite
A few inclusions are present, but not readily eye visible. (mj3inc-04-03a) $959

11.33ct Neon Apatite - U.S. Cut!

The color of this piece is a deep neon blue with a hint of green (to the eye). There is nothing else in this color, size, cutting, clarity on the market. Another One of a Kind, All That Glitters Exclusive. 16.4x10.0x8.2mm (01b) $2,266

21ct+ Neon Madagascar Apatite

This unique stone was featured in our introduction to The World of Gems: sparkle showed up much better in the intro than it does in this scanned image. We have copies of the TV program and would be willing to send a copy for you if you are interested. This stone is seldom found clean over a carat. The material is frequently seen as milky. To have a stone over a few carats and essentially eye clean is unusual, reminiscent of Paraiba Tourmaline, clean for this type of stone, not to mention it is destined for a museum. We have two smaller pieces and again, well we have photographed and on this page, the other is approximately 12ct and can be seen in our gallery. We have happened to find some rarely discovered large pieces that allowed us to offer this gemstone - all we faceted in the United States by our master gemstone cutter for $4,122. SOLD!
