James Grant Music Management was formed in the early part of 2005 by Nick Worsley and Simon Hargreaves and is a joint venture with long established TV Management Company James Grant Media. Heading up the company are two former Sony Music Entertainment Executives - Nick Worsley who was Head of Radio Promotions and Simon Hargreaves who was Head Of Press and Publicity. Bringing together over 20 years of music industry experience across both Major labels and the Independent sector - James Grant Music delivers a fresh and extremely potent force in the Music Business and is already breaking new ground in the Music Management arena.
