Peter Lee is a good guy. He's definitely more at the Systems Design and management level at this point in his career, so if they have a reasonable Tech staff to do the detail work, he is a good leader. I can't think of anyone else appropriate off the top of my head at the moment.

Hi All, iviewit is expanding their management team. Aidan Foley is the new CEO and they are lookign for a CTO. I was wondering if you had suggestions of appropriate candidates? AND, in particular, what your thoughts are regarding Peter Lee as a potential candidate?? Aidan proposed him and I have only a brief memory of him from his IBM days. I assume that you may have worked closer with him??

Any input?

Thanx,
David
